In your heart sleeps moonlight, a soft summer moonlight, and to escape life's worries, I shall drown myself in your light. I will forget past sorrows, my love, when you cradle my sad heart and my thoughts in the loving calm of your arms. You will take my sick head, Oh! Sometimes on your knee and will tell it a ballad that will seem to speak of us, and from your eyes full of sadness from your eyes I shall drink so many kisses and so much tenderness that, perhaps, I will heal.
