Instructor Dan Zsido retired as a lieutenant from the Pinellas County Sheriff's Office in Florida after 40 years of service in law enforcement with an extensive background in narcotic investigations. He was the commander of the Narcotics Division comprised of the Pinellas Initiative with the Central Florida HIDTA, Strategic Interdiction, Tactical, Diversion and Technical Operations. Mr. Zsido has held various assignments and positions during his career as an investigator, trainer and supervisor in Patrol Operations, SWAT, FTO, Street Crimes Unit, Community Policing and Narcotics. He was selected to establish and supervise a Strategic Diversion Task Force and developed a nationally recognized multi-agency entity that investigated pharmaceutical crimes such as doctor shopping, prescription fraud, drug trafficking organizations, rouge pharmacies and pill mill criminal enterprises. Mr. Zsido serves as the Training & Education Director for the National Association of Drug Diversion Investigators (NADDI) providing impactful narcotic trends awareness training to law enforcement, corrections, probation and parole, regulatory investigators, healthcare practitioners, schools, community groups, anti-drug coalitions, HIDTAs and the National Guard.
